

Be inspired by Megan Montaner and the casual-chic look

By Maqui Bourgon for Woman Madame Figaro, 21st January 2015

And there is no need to complicate your life when getting dressed each day.

Simply get a hold of a couple of your basic items in your wardrobe and update them with this trend for a fresh look as chic and wearable as Megan Montaner's.

She has chosen a poncho/cape/coat, a must have this season. In addition it is warm and especially comfortable and easy to carry on blazers or American ... If you do not have one, and trust me and include it in your wish list of 2nd rebates.

But beware! Despite its benefits, the poncho or coat is a double-edged sword, especially for you are ample of kilos or short of stature. If this is your case, I recommend that, before deciding [to buy], take a look here.

In these cases, with a robe coat or parka with fur-trimmed hood, you will achieve the same current touch without collateral damage to your silhouette.

Now. . .look to Megan!

So chic and she has become casual without sacrificing an ounce of style by simply choosing a flat boots.

If instead she had opted for shoe heels or sandals, the effect would have been radically changed. The styling would be more than adequate to attend an afternoon or evening event where normally the dress code tends to be more demanding.

And it is that however formal or informal to be a garment or accessory, the final effect of the look depends entirely on the whole combination of mix & match items.

Megan, who has very good [body] type and boasts a waist, chose a camel leather belt in contrast to the dark tone of her trousers and acts as sensor image on that area.

In case you have a gut, are short or have a low waist and want to disguise it, I advise you to choose discreet eye-catching belt buckles and not many ornaments in the same colour as the garment bottom.

This way you get to correct those small little defects and have a much slimmer-looking figure.

As you see it is a very adaptable and versatile look that can even be worn to work, provided the profile of your job and the company permit it.

In my page www.maquibourgon.com you have many outfits in which inspire you to get dressed every day as it isn't a headache ... Be sure to visit.
